BEGINNINGS...

Yearbooks From the Past

by Buddy Dauterive and Kelton Thompson

Yearbooks have been a tradition at SSC from the first edition of Whitecaps to the last edition of Reflections. There have been other yearbooks before this, dating back to the beginning of St. Stanislaus College.

Each year is different. Some years the books are short, other years they are longer. It all depends on the events that happened that year. For instance, the 1967 yearbook was an eight-page paperback. This seems small compared to the 1990-91 yearbook that contained 208 pages.

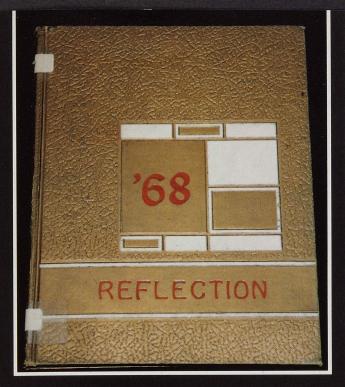

For a while, there were no yearbooks. Whitecaps ceased publication in 1962, and there were no yearbooks from 1962 to 1966.

In 1968, Reflections was introduced and is still being published. This issue marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of Reflections.

In reading old yearbooks, you can find some interesting things. For example, in 1959, the new Infirmary was built. In the 1969 Reflections, Mr. Gemelli, then a senior, had a .521 batting average. And in the 1977 yearbook there are pictures of the construction of the Brother Peter Gym.

The first edition of Reflections in 1968 was dedicated to Brother Loyola Mattingly who is still at SSC. Other members of the 1992 St. Stanislaus family who appeared in that first book are Brother Eduardo, Mr. Thriffiley, Brother Aquin, Brother Philip, Brother Firmin, Brother Joseph, Brother Leon, Brother Noel, Brother Lee, Brother Canisius, Mrs. Zimmerman, Mr. Gemelli, and senior Michael Ryan, who is now principal of St. Stanislaus.

The appointment of Dr. Ryan as principal is a first in the 138-year history of SSC. He is the first layman to hold the position. This year's Reflections will highlight some of the other "firsts" that have taken place during his administration.

If These Walls Could Talk

by Adam Breerwood "If these walls could talk."

We've all heard that cliche a million times. When I arrived at St. Stanislaus for the first time in seventh grade, it was my first thought. Only that day, it was a thought of fear.

Shortly, as time went by, I thought about my grandfather, Elmer Breerwood, who was graduated in 1942, and I thought about myself, who will graduate in 1992, 50 years later. Again, I wondered, "If these walls could talk," what memories did St. Stanislaus hold for him? Love, Brotherhood, Education, Discipline and Tradition.

The walls of this campus hold for us a history of all the wonderful things of generations past and will continue to do so for future students.

As I leave St. Stanislaus in May, 1992, I hope that all my dreams and aspirations, accomplishments, tears and love of this family will have penetrated these walls, the old ones and the new ones.

I am priviledged to walk, think, learn, converse and seek guidance within these walls.

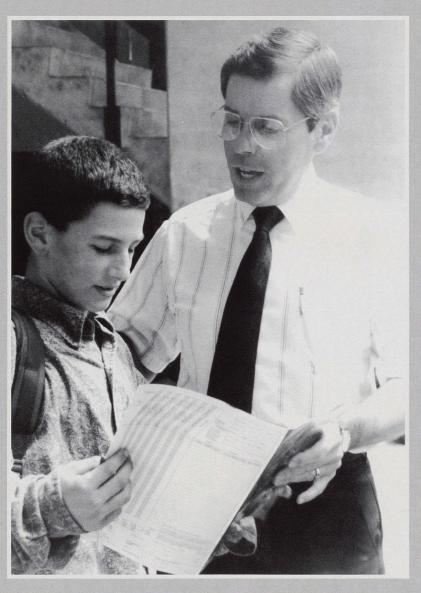

The addition of a new wing, new "walls," creates a greater advantage for those who enjoy an education at St. Stanislaus. With added space, state-of-the-art equipment, an excellent guidance department, teaching staff and administration, our Stanislaus family has a greater potential for learning, growing and sharing.

The tradition continues as the Brothers of the Sacred Heart started so many years ago, forming boys into young men who will go forward to make a difference in society with excitement.

St. Stanislaus is a brotherhood, a family who comes back to walk these halls alone, or with a young boy in hand — his son, grandson, or great grandson — to remember or create new memories for these walls.

If only they could talk. . .

Sometimes a lifetime of memories begins with the simplest things. A welcoming picnic on the lawn provided by the Key Club (opposite page, top left) leaves a good feeling in your stomach as well as a good taste in your mouth. Or maybe it comes from just being by yourself on the pier, as Cisco discovers (top right), even if you don't catch any fish.

That lasting memory might be the time somebody helped you when you got stuck, as Mr. Burgo coaches Ben Bollich (left center), or just enjoying lunch together on the lawn on a sunny afternoon (right center) with Art, Scott, Ron and James.

And of course we'll remember J.J.'s ice cream cones (bottom left) — filled to overflowing. And that first meeting with a prefect (bottom right) — whatever that is.

Contributing to a team effort brings back memories for Abe (this page, left). And Halloween in the dorm (below) is a unique experience. Sometimes daring to be different is important, as Coach Kenney (lower left) wears a coat and tie — and shorts. A carefree summer day for Jason (lower center), even if school is starting. And the sheer joy of being able to get your locker open, as Jonathan found out (lower right).

Sometimes a lifetime of memories begins with the simplest things. $^{\text{\tiny{W}}}$

All of the beginnings, all of the memories we have formed this year, began with an idea. The idea that SSC can continue to grow and that it's students will become the best they can be.

Largely responsible for that growth are the faculty and staff who keep us on our toes and prod us to greatness. A sampling of those who have helped form us are featured on these pages.

Mr. Fitzmorris (right), sometimes seeming bigger than life, gently guided us. Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Holder (below left) were always there when we needed to find out where to go. Mr. Cherota (below right) taught his classes and kept up with the demands of curriculum development. Mr. Franklin (bottom left) was a wiz at generating the computer calendar each month. Mr. Kivlan (bottom right) guided us both on and off the field.

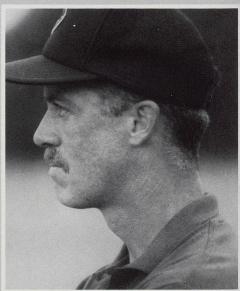

And even on their own time they were there for us. At a basketball game (opposite page, top left) Mrs. Thornton, Mrs. Cichon, and Mr. Labat cheered us on. Brother John (top right) even found time occasionally to sit down. Mr. Clingon (center left) was a master with words. Mrs. Kortman (lower left) was always there to answer our questions. Mrs. Pike (lower center) quietly planned our spiritual life activities. And Mr. Carey (lower right) started the year as a prefect but happily relinquished the job to Mr. Calamari.

The enthusiasm of the event can be seen in the faces of the happy group proudly displaying their rings at the Ring Mass Reception (opposite page, top).

At the Mass, celebrated by Father Cuddy of Our Lady of the Gulf, rings were presented by principal, Dr. Michael Ryan, and Guidance Director, Mr. Andy Kivlan.

Dr. Ryan presents Sam Simpson with his ring (this page, center). A history of the SSC ring is displayed at the Mass each year (lower left). Matt Brunner and Adam Breerwood (lower right) show off their new rings at the Mass.

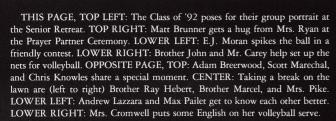

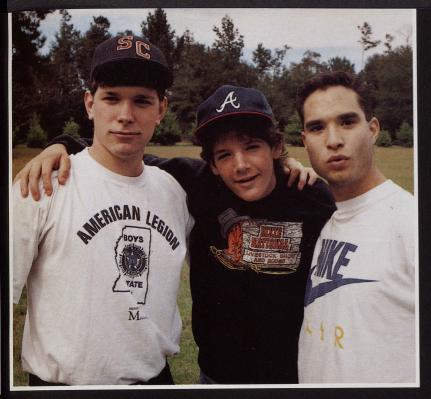

The Senior Retreat was a special time for the members of the Class of 1992 to grow in closeness to each other and to God.

As the retreat began, many of the seniors were virtual strangers to each other. But, as the two-day experience took shape, they gradually let down their defenses and allowed themselves to be moved by the Spirit of God.

With prayer, reflection, group bondings, games, and meals together, the seniors found themselves coming together as a class.

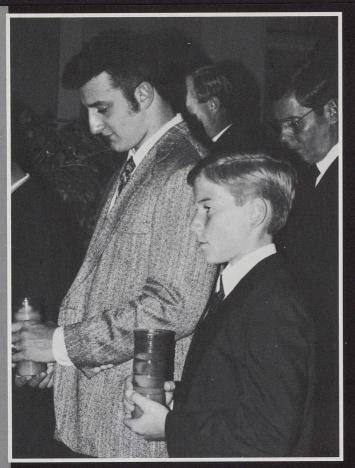

At the final Eucharistic Celebration, they affirmed their new-found unity, and determined to incorporate it into their daily lives and share it with the other members of the St. Stanislaus Community.

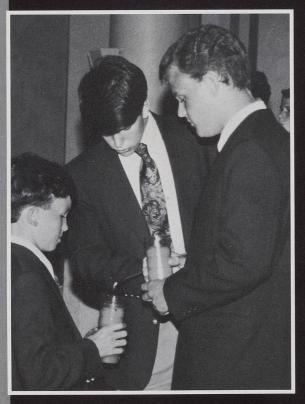

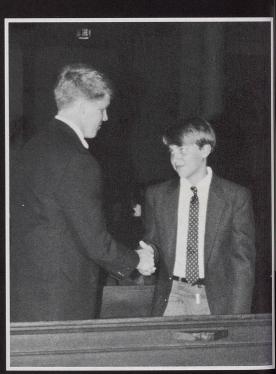

R

Student Council Members Lead the Way

The St. Stanislaus Student Council again succeeded in successfully guiding the school through many year-round activities. The Council raised several thousand dollars in the Lenten Giving Fund Drive. The funds were distributed to many worthy causes from supporting other Catholic schools to helping individuals who were in need.

Various other Student Council projects include the Homecoming Pep Rally and Dance, Thanksgiving Baskets for the needy, the Brother Aubert Fishing Rodeo, and numerous sports tournaments.

SADD Promotes Responsibility

The St. Stanislaus chapter of Students Against Driving Drunk schedules many activities during the year to promote responsible behavior among the SSC student body.

At the beginning of the year, SADD sponsored a Barbeque fundraiser to benefit individuals who have been injured by a drunk driver. During October, the chapter participated in National Red Ribbon Week by tying ribbons on car antennas to remind people to drive responsibly.

At Thanksgiving and Christmas, the members distributed food baskets to the needy. And on December 12, they hosted a candle-light vigil on the steps of City Hall in preparation for a safe holiday season.

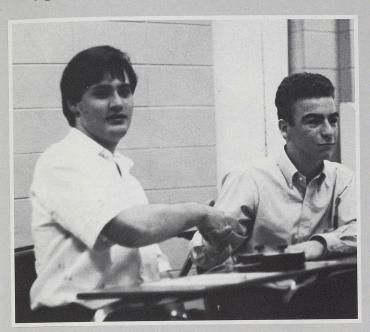

Other activities included Ghost-Out Day and an assembly featuring a person injured by a drunk driver. And SADD members are always available if someone calls to be driven home if they feel they are intoxicated.

Quiz Bowlers Use Their Heads

Quiz Bowl institutes a sense of mental well being into the young men participating in this activity at St. Stanislaus. Lead by moderator Mr. John Fitzmorris, the quiz bowlers practiced daily, spending hours testing their knowledge against Trivial Pursuit cards. The quiz bowlers' extensive practice is questioned every Monday during the quiz bowl season when the team jumps on a bus and travels to Gulf Coast Community College for a meet against other coast teams.

The 1991-1992 St. Stanislaus Quiz Bowl Team consisted of Seth Lavoie, Bernard Sy, Patrick Cousins, Sean Zigler, and Roberto Jiminez. Captain of this year's quiz bowl team was senior Charlie Merrigan.

Without Cheerleaders, it's only a game.

The Cheerleaders work very hard to get the football players motivated and "hungry" for the games. This is accomplished through pep rallies, banners and signs, spirit ribbons, locker stickers with candy, much shouting, and incredible pyramids.

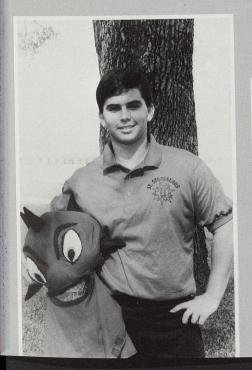

Is it easy? No way! But through dedication and planning, it can all be done.

The girls also cheer at all of the home basketball games and some away games. Each summer, the girl cheerleaders attend the Elite Cheerleading Association Camp. This year, they received three "Superior" ribbons in Camp competition and also, for the first time, came home with the spirit stick! It wasn't easy!

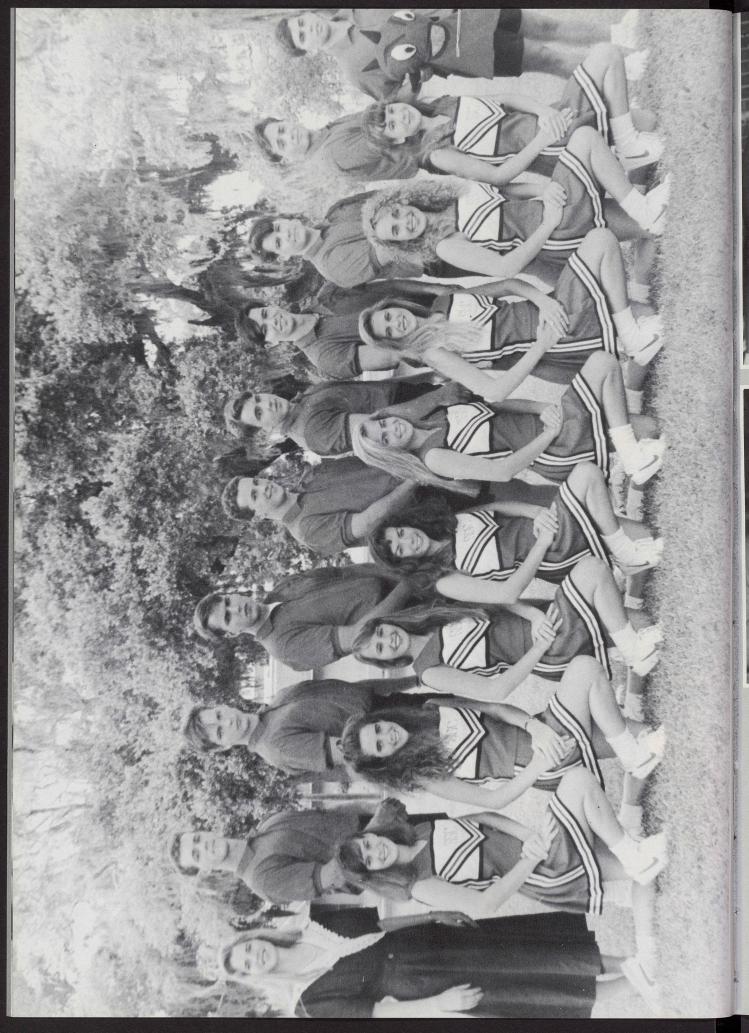

Not to be outdone, the boy cheerleaders were trained in stunts, tumbling and pyramide techniques by an instructor from the Elite Cheerleading Association.

Judging from the performances of the 1992 Cheerleaders, all of the individual and group effort resulted in a very successful season.

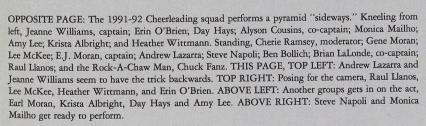

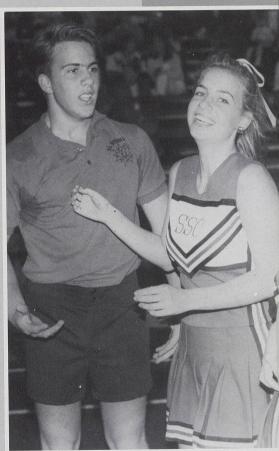

Band Pride Shows

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw band marched 68 strong under the direction of Mrs. Catchie Choina, assisted my Mr. Rudy Rowell.

The Marching Band earned all "Superiors" and "Best in Class" at the Deep South Marching Festival in Theadore, Alabama. It was the first time the Band had competed in this contest. The Drum Major, Philip Garcia, and the Color Guard, with captains Becky Monti and Kim Manieri, earned "Superiors" also. The Drum Line and Color Guard earned all "Superiors" at the Old South Open Marching Contest in Milton, Florida.

The 1991-92 Band was extremely busy this year. Band begins for the Color Guard in mid-July, and full-Band Camp takes place in August.

The Band performed at football games, a Veterans' Day parade, two Christmas parades, performed at the first "Academic Excellence" testing day, and presented a Christmas Concert.

Chuck Fazzio and George Becker represented SSC at the State Band Clinic in Biloxi, and other members attended the Gulf Coast Band Clinic. And for the first time, Mr. Rowell added the "Winter Guard" to the Band's repertoire.

The year ended with the Spring Concert and the Band Awards Ceremony.

According to Mrs. Choina: "Band is not a seasonal activity. We go year 'round and the band members work very hard. The band has demonstrated PRIDE, especially this year in their appearance and in their performances, and it all seems worth it when a total stranger approached me at a Christmas Parade in Gretna, La., and said, 'Now this is what a band is supposed to look like.'"

The Radio Club was active in many ways this year. The club's yearly project is a class taught by Brother Eduardo Baldioceda. Through this class, eighth grade students are introduced to Ham Radio and all that it entails.

One of the advanced projects of the club is the "foxhunt." A foxhunt is a kind of "hide-and-go-seek" game in which a transmitter is hidden and club members go seek it out with FM transceivers and home-made directional antennas.

Mansel Bell, Club president, said of the foxhunt, "One of this year's major projects was the foxhunt. We designed and built antennas so that we could locate a hidden transceiver; ours was a small FM radio."

The club also enganged in other projects. Members erected wire antennas at the new Ham operators's houses, and resurrected antennas that had begun to fall apart at other members' homes.

The Radio Club's purpose is to enlighten students in technical skills and provide community service through its various projects.

Tricks are Treat

Anyone who likes to watch magic tricks being performed would certainly enjoy attending the meetings of the SSC Magic Club.

But there's only one catch — You have to be a member.

Once a month, the members of the club get together to perform magic for one another, and sometimes they let each other in on the secrets. And occasionally, a guest magician "appears" to reveal how some of his tricks are done.

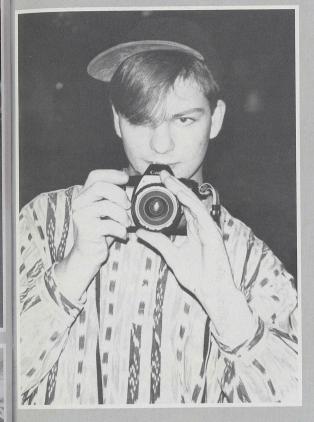

Members can also check out books about magic from their moderator Brother Lee. All in all, its a real treat to attend these fun meetings.

"Fortress" provides showcase for ensemble

Fortress, a one act play written by Michael Scanlan provided the cast, which was composed of Our Lady Academy and St. Stanislaus students, an excellent opportunity to hone their theatrical skills.

As ensemble, the actors were continuously on stage becoming the props which depicted everything from a cross to a psychiatrist.

Cheryl Willett as Kim and Jason Carter as Billy were the central characters; however, the power of the play rests on the tight, concentrated work of all the actors performing in unison.

Fortress presents the joys and sorrows of two teenagers coming to terms with their mutual love.

"Cranes" Recalls Horror of Atomic Bomb

A Thousand Cranes, directed by Mr. Ken Priest, is the haunting true story of Sadako Sasaki (Anne Courrege), a young girl growing up in the shadow of the world's first atomic bomb.

After growing normally for twelve years, Sadako discovers suddenly that she has Lukemia as a direct result of the radiation of the dropping of the bomb.

Rocks Flex Their Muscles

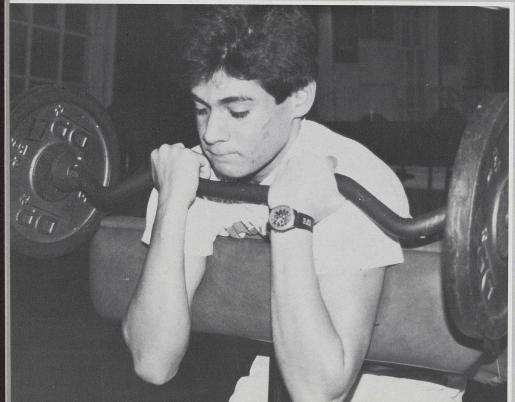

The St. Stanislaus Weightlifting Club has helped to shape more than just the minds of many SSC students. The club fosters a sense of physical conditioning and health that is an essential part of the complete development of any individual.

The weight room facilities are among the best of any high school on the Gulf Coast with new equipment being added every year. Since it is open both during the school day and after school, the weight room is available to P. E. students, team atheletes, and other club members.

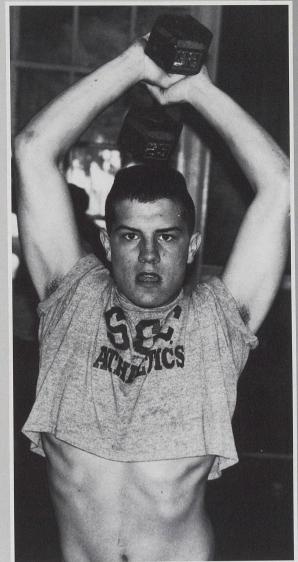

Since physical health is both directly and indirectly related to a healthy mind, the SSC Weightlifting Club is one of soulful as well physical health. Bringing students in touch with their personal physique, the club helps to further create young men of character.

Renovations to the weight room, made possible by the Endowment for Excellence Fund, will undoubtedly make the St. Stanislaus Weightlifting Club a model for the future.

Rocks boast State Ranking

The 1991-92 Football Rock-A-Chaws began the season with a stunning upset win, 33-27, over the Gulfport Admirals to win state-wide notice early in the season.

As a result, the Rocks were ranked 13th in the state and achieved number one ranking on the coast by mid season.

At the end of the season, Rock quarterback Bill Dreher led the coast with 16 touchdown passes. Mickey Quinlan topped all receivers on the coast with nine TD receptions. Jeremiah Fuhrer was the second leading receiver in the district with 5 scoring receptions, and he placed third overall on the coast.

Mike Lee completed the season as the fifth leading scorer in the district.

The game against the Admirals was a first in many ways for the Rock-A-Chaws.

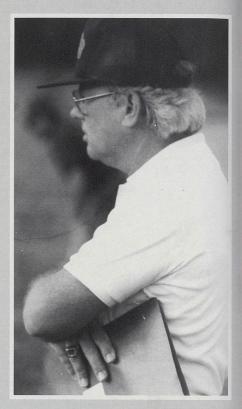

For head coach Ken Lyons, a Gulfport native, it marked the first time he had played against the Admirals as a head coach.

Bill Dreher received instant celebrity status with the win by throwing for 270 yards and four touchdowns in the Gulfport game.

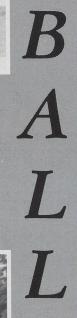

On the defensive side, the Rocks forced seven turnovers in the Gulfport game led by inside linebackers Johnny Rutherford and Mike Davidge, end Kerry Wittmann, and tackle Stanley Chapman.

Rock Round-ballers Gain Experience

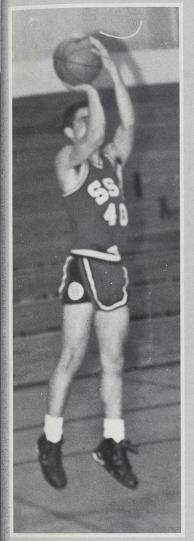

The 1991-92 SSC Basketball team under the direction of new head coach Jay Ladner put forth a good effort during the season. For seniors Jay Wood, Mike Lee, Trent Terrell, Steve Schruff, Johnny Hamilton, Ryan Harrell, and Grady Thigpen it was their final year of high school basketball. Rock Kickers Make Final Four in State

For the first time in SSC history, the Rock-A-Chaw Soccer team made it past district to become one of the final four teams in the state.

The highlight of the season was the Rocks' stunning upset win over Clinton, 2-1, a team that was undefeated in 30 games before they faced the Rocks. The Rock-A-Chaw kickers lost to Forest Hill, the eventual state champions, 4-2.

The key to the successful season was the powerful defense. According to senior halfback Jonathan Compretta, "Defense was the driving force behind the team."

Goalkeeper Brian Gagnon allowed no more than two goals in all except one game. In that contest against Long Beach, the Rocks came out on top with a 5-3 win.

Others besides Gagnon and Compretta who contributed to the low scoring against the Rocks were halfbacks Scott Emmel and Mike Erdoes, along with fullbacks Stanley Chapman, Frank Kerbl, and James Reso.

Overall, the team finished the season 17-4-3.

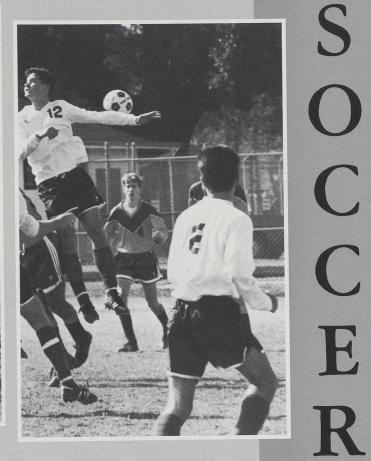

In the state semi-final against Clinton, Gagnon held for twenty saves while kickers Raul Aragon and Darrin Rose made the scores.

According to head soccer coach Tim Burns, the Rocks were not expected to win over Clinton. "Beating Clinton was a very big upset. It was an unbelievable experience to beat a team that was 30-0, and we weren't even supposed to be on the field with them, according to some people."

The Rocks' appearance in the state finals was somewhat of a surprise considering that early in the season they had a 7-4-3 record. But, according to Coach Burns, the turn-around came at Christmas, when they decided to work harder. And, said Burns, that made all the difference. "The team took the hard work the right way, and they went on a 10 and 2 run after that."

Rock Baseball is a Crowd Pleaser

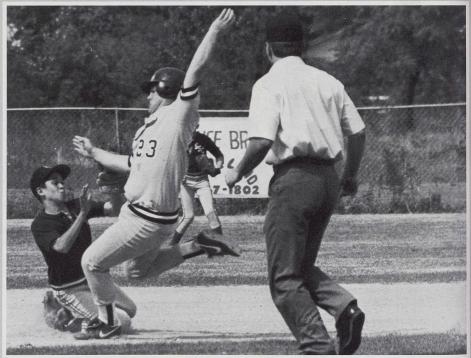

by Bud Lemann

The fans cheer again for yet another exciting baseball season. They cheer when they hear the crack of the bat as John Rutherford hits another homerun, or the cry of the umpire, "Strike Three," as Brady Price strikes out another victim.

The fans are with the team at every game as the Rocks make this season the most exciting ever.

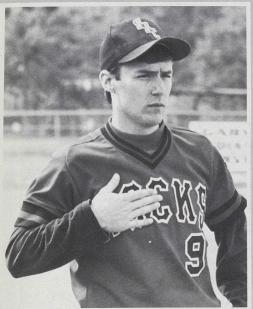

This year the Rocks have taken on some of their toughest opponents from the past, but they never lost hope or determination. They have defeated such teams as Picayune and D'Iberville. Brady Price was even awarded "Player of the Week" by the Sun-Herald. Also mentioned in the Sun-Herald were Mickey Quinlan and Adam Breerwood.

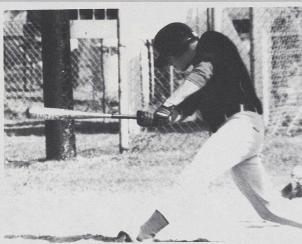

Throughout the season, the Rocks have shown that hard work and determination really pays off. The team pleased its fans more than they could have ever hoped for. But, more than that, they can take pride in their accomplishments and make next season even better.

Runners Take State

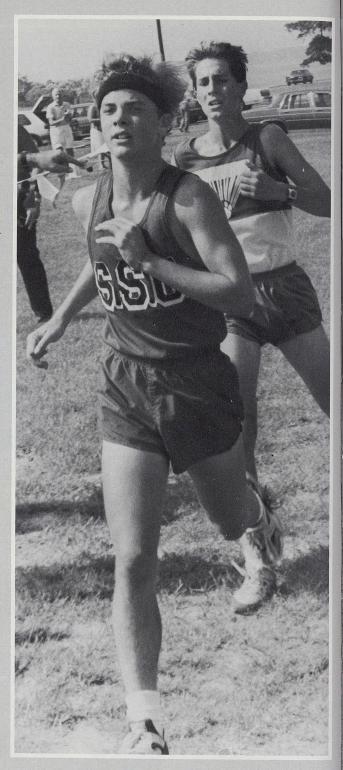

After only three years in existence, the SSC Cross Country team achieved the goal that others might only dream about — the State Championship.

Getting to the state meet took a lot of hard work and for most of the runners that meant at least an hour of running every day.

In Cross Country, the participants must race over all types of terrain for 5 kilometers.

Top competitors on the team were Chris Kehoe, All-District and All-State, and the number one runner on the team; Drew Scafide, number two runner, All-District and All-State finisher, and winner of the "Mr. Rock-A-Chaw" Award; Scott Marechal, Co-captain and top 7 runner; Joe Cerise, top 7 runner; Gilly Chamberlain, All-District, top 7 runner, and 100% Award finisher; Alejandro Alvarez, All-State finisher and top 7 runner; and Scott Black, who moved up to the Varsity during the last three meets and was an All-District and All-State finisher.

Homecoming is always one of the highlights of the school year for the SSC Rock-A-Chaws.

All of the homerooms prepare for the big pep rally, the football selects the Homecoming Queen and her court, and the cheerleaders design colorful theme banners to grace the halls and campus.

And, at the pep rally, Band Members, led by Chuck Fazzio and Dwayne Bremmer, give their all in the tug-of-war.

Class of '92 is 138th in SSC History

May 30 finally came!

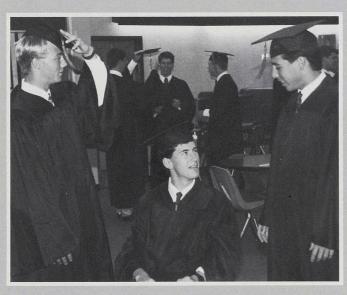

The eighty-five members of the Class of 1992 made it through their senior year and walked down the aisle of Our Lady of the Gulf Church to receive their diplomas and join the ranks of St. Stanislaus Alumni.

For some, the year seemed to fly by; for others, it seemed the end would never come. But, amid the joy of the occasion and the sorrow of parting, the Class of '92 celebrated their final time together.

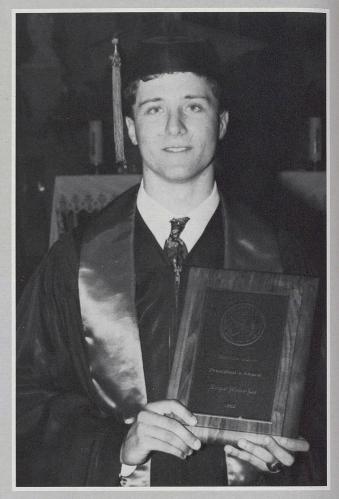

As the Class of '92 departs, they leave behind a standard of scholarship and leadership for other future classes to emulate.

Representing his class for outstanding achievement, Michael Lee (right) was chosen as the recipient of the 1992 President's Award.

Receiving an award of a different sort, John Godfrey overcame great obstacles to rejoin his class for the final part of the year and to receive his diploma with them, presented by Dr. Ryan and Brother Paul Montero.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

As I sit here reflecting upon the past year, I envision all the memories that made it such a success — all the various atheletic victories, all the school convocations, all the spirit. But, as I sit here reflecting upon this year's yearbook, many people come to mind who played invaluable roles in its publication.

The first group that I would like to thank is the core of the yearbook staff, namely Mr. Tom Ackerman, courageous yearbook advisor, Lee Mckee, chief photo editor and darkroom technician, Geoff Kohl, Managing Editor, and Wayne Murphy, Ads editor, Without these individuals the yearbook would not have even gotten off the ground.

The next group of "invaluables" are those students who donated much of their time to the yearbook, namely Mark Schutt, Roberto Jiminez, Matt Bruner, Claudio Rivero, and Buddy Lemann. Through their diligence many of the "loose ends" of the yearbook were tied up.

Lastly, I would like to give special thanks to Mr. Clingon, who single-handedly tackled one of the most tedious of yearbook tasks. Through his help we were able to complete this year's edition of Reflections on time.

As we all reflect upon this past year, let us bid a final farewell to the class of '92 and a greeting to the class of '93.
